Dedication

of

THURSTON SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

SCHOOL DISTRICT 19
SPRINGFIELD, OREGON

MARCH 26, 1961

This school has been built by the careful work of many hands, the deep loves of many hearts, the clear lights of many minds. We pray that it may be forever free to hand down to our children the heritage of truth, justice and liberty under God which we have treasured from our forefathers.

Uncertain and hesitant at first, Thurston High's first students set about forming a school, complete with traditional activities, organizations, and policies. Important decisions were an every day occurance at first, as the student body decided to have a white shirt section instead of a formal pep club; composed and adopted a constitution; started traditional dances; developed school spirit; formed and supported fifteen organizations; and most important, learned many things not discovered before through the classrooms.

Sports; dances; club activities; conferences and conventions; friends; unusual incidents; the experience of being in a position of authority, no matter how small or unimportant; an interesting class--these are the things that will be remembered in the many, many years to come.

Sophomores became a part of the school as few other schools have allowed them to. Seniors, upon the top rung of imagined ladder, needed help from sophomores and juniors alike to realize the potential of Thurston.

This experience, of establishing a new school, will undoubtedly be a part of the memories--fond, bitter or indifferent--of all who experienced it.

Dr. Warren Glaede, Head Booster

In his office

GEORGE ZELLICK, principal
Mr. Zellick has worked hard to make the school a worthwhile, respected center of learning and part of community life. His motto: Go first rate, or don't go at all. His many efforts have helped make THS's first year one to remember forever.

KNEELING--Dick Putnum, Bob Newby, Al Bean, Bob Wicks, Bob Cox, Toby Stucky, Jim Boyd. STANDING--Joel Heacock, Fred Willis, Jack McCreary, Merrill Burge.

The Colts' first football team, although smaller than most, had a successful season; winning three and tying one. Plagued by injuries, the team showed excellent spirit and plenty of desire and hustle. Throughout the football season, the Colts were a team Thurston could be proud of. Jack McCreary was chosen Most Valuable Player by the Boosters at their annual football banquet.

Everyone tries for the ball.

The Thurston Colts' first basketball season was successful as far as improvement was concerned, even though the final scores did not always indicate success. The team was handicapped because few in the team had previous varsity experience. They showed a lot of determination and desire to win as they represented T.H.S. in the best possible way. Fred Willis scored as second high point man in District 5-A-1 competion and was chosen for the all district team.

Yes he's a big one Fred, but . . .
